A Freud Café Dialogue in an Age of Bewilderment

What does psychoanalysis have to say about the human tendency to both know and not know in this 'Age of Bewilderment?' In a time of global crisis and multiple existential threats, our collective and individual minds are under assault. Every day, we are faced with an overwhelming array of "alternative facts," propaganda, and an absence of moral constraints and ethical principles. With so much denial and distortion interfering on such a massive scale, what does psychoanalysis -- the theory of the unconscious -- have to offer?

This Special Freud Café brings together psychoanalysts from across Canada, integrating multiple regional and analytic perspectives, to open a dialogue about the meaning of truth, lies, the working of the unconscious, and the failure of imagination at this critical moment.

Join us for a discussion with psychoanalysts, Endre Koritar MD (Vancouver, WBCPS), Cecilia Taiana PhD (Ottawa, OPS), Gordon Yanchyshyn MD (Toronto, TPS), and William Massicotte PhD (Montreal, QEBCPS).
